PREPARE ENRICH

building strong marriages

The Main Contributors:

John Deagle has headed up Prepare Enrich UK over the last decade, and during that time has worked with several hundred couples and trained similar numbers to use the inventories. John is married with three now very grown up children. Over the last year he has been working on the launch of the Parenting Version which provides new options for working with couples.

Sally McElroy is a Marriage and Family Life Coordinator for St Andrews and Edinburgh Archdiocese. She also works as a relationship counsellor and counselling supervisor and trainer.

David Percival is the founder, with his wife Liz, of 2-in-2-1, a business committed to building a range of service offerings focused on sustainable relationships. He has 30 years of professional business experience as well as experience of leading the Anglican Marriage Encounter. During this time David and his wife Liz became involved with the wider marriage scene, recognising both the breadth of different services that were available, and the barriers that couples face in seeking support in marriage.

Yourselves - please bring your invaluable experience and tips to share at these sessions.

Who are these events for?
